

Captain Kirk's adventures " Distant worlds " P2

The professor recovered Batman and Spiderman lost in the Amazon jungle. He directs his aircraft to a small village on the edge of the jungle by the ocean. He knows that Captain Kirk sometimes came to meet a powerful shaman.

-Good! Good! Well, here we are in a small remote village in the Amazonian forest, here the inhabitants are peaceful and do not come into contact with our modern world. We must therefore approach them with caution and caution, we must not pollute these peoples with our consumerist thoughts, we would put them in great danger, so I would go down alone.

-Hello, I come in peace, you understand my language.

-Yes, perfectly.

-I am looking for a powerful shaman who lives by the great river.

-A shaman? There is no shaman, except an old shaggy madman who lives in a temple at 2am while going up the river

-He's a weird guy! By the way, how are you doing with the SG?

-Impeccable, I'm just going to take care of Tartopruno's latest film.

-You're lucky I have some difficulties to receive my emails.

In Carcassonne's distant worlds, 2 sinister characters meet again.

-You failed Vlad! You disappoint me.

-I suffered a serious ship accident that plunged me into hostile seabed populated by all kinds of watches that only thought of devouring me, I survived. Now the Professor and his accomplices will pay.

-Well then, make it quick, Vlad, my patience is limited.

-Did you do what I asked you to do?

-Yes, great Belphegor, its propulsion is sabotaged, it will cause a spectacular crash, as you wish.

-Well, it was time to get rid of that incompetent man. Now let's go back to Ark of Covenant, it's time to get my territories back.

-Good Master.

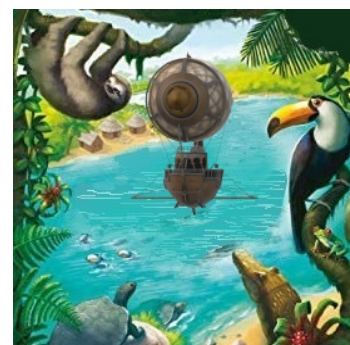

-You see, my friends, despite the beauty of the site, we are in danger of multiple dangers in the jungle, for example, this water so blue that we would swim without taking care of ourselves, well believe me, you would be bitten in an instant.

-I wanted to congratulate you Spiderman for getting your appearance back, these strips didn't fit you at all.

-Thank you Professor.

And you Batman, it would be wise if you stopped wearing blue, it doesn't match your temperament at all.

-Good Professor
