

The Adventures of Captain Kirk "The Alchemists" Part 1 continued

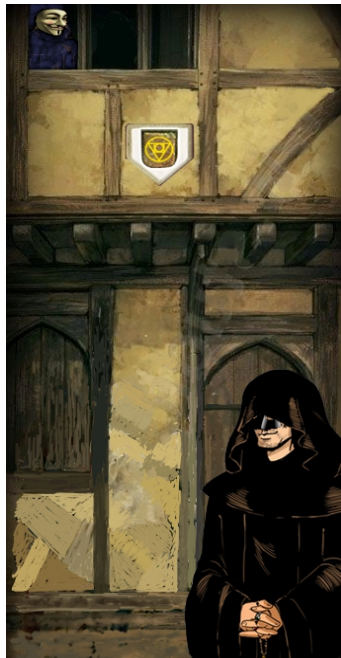

The two hooded individuals enter a deserted alley in the city.

Then they enter a house equipped with a heavy door and a closed shutter.

- Are you sure it's the Alchemist?
- Absolutely sure, he is accompanied by Edda
- Edda! The poison queen !, you are going to place one of your men to watch me over this house and keep me informed of all the facts and deeds.

In the very calm lane, far from the cassoulet festival, stands a disturbing silhouette observed by another just as disturbing from her window.
