

The adventures of Captain Kirk "special high seas" P3 and end

Batman was rescued safely and hoisted on board. The Professor gathered them all together and debriefed them in the cockpit.

-Good! Good! Hmm! Well, I just reviewed the situation with Captain Croustade just now, the sonar research he's doing to help us has given us nothing. On the other hand, he has heard about the legend of a fish man in distant islands. Batman and Spiderman you will go there immediately and continue this mission. When Edgard and I go back to the base to repair our aircraft, then we'll join you.

-Professor, this sea is infested with monsters, we are in danger!

-Remember, Batman, you're the elite of superheroes, don't forget it! When you Spiderman take those horrible strips off me, and you Edgard, I have two words to say to you!

-Tell me Edgard.

-Yes, Professor.

-When you had that accident, what exactly were you doing?

-I was monitoring the navigation control screens, Professor!

-Good! Hmm! Well, can you explain to me the origin of all the traces of balloon impacts in the cockpit that we just rebuilt after your stupid intervention in the worlds of Ark off the Covenant?Covenant ?

Batman and Spiderman are heading towards the setting sun, towards the islands? When suddenly a giant maelstrom rises, dragging everyone in its wake.

-Batman, we are caught up in this thing, we are going to be thrown at random, into unknown worlds!

-Hold on, Spiderman, it's going to shake!

Far away, in the worlds of Ark off the Covenant, super agents Starsky and Hutch continue their investigation.

Dr. Chewbacca kindly reduced the length of their hospitalization for overwork, and our bloodhounds are now on a track.

-Bos, I think we have a lead!

-Indeed, we are going to enter this building which looks suspicious.

In Anubis' palace, which seems deserted, Starsky and Hutch advance cautiously.

-We don't see anything, Boss!

-We're very close! They're here, I can feel it!

-I smell a mixture of rotten eggs and brimstone

Yes boss

Will our friends come out of the maelstrom unharmed?
